Summary

 Please note that this summary of the panel was AI-generated and therefore has not been fully vetted for accuracy.

The session from Washington Arbitration Update (WAU) featured a discussion led by José Antonio Rivas, addressing various aspects of international arbitration, particularly in the context of the curación lunar Uruguay vs. the world arbitration case. Key participants included Álvaro Galindo, who contributed insights from his extensive experience in international law and arbitration.

The conversation highlighted the principles of pacta sunt servanda, emphasizing the importance of contractual obligations and the implications of changing circumstances for states under international law. Participants discussed the challenges faced by states in fulfilling their obligations, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has significantly impacted investment treaties and state responsibilities.

The session also touched upon the fair and equitable treatment standards for foreign investors, exploring how recent jurisprudence has evolved in response to global challenges. The need for clarity in legal frameworks governing investments was underscored, alongside a discussion on the role of public interest in investment disputes.

Overall, the session provided a comprehensive overview of current trends and challenges in international arbitration, with a focus on the legal principles that govern state obligations and investor protections in a rapidly changing global landscape.
